THE DEMOCRATS

Meet in Mass Convention--Bryan Indorsed.

At a Democratic mass convention, held at the court house in Jackson, Ky., on Saturday, June 6, 1908, pursuant to the call of the State Executive Committee, the meeting was called to order by A. P. Crawford, committee member of Precinct No. 1, who acted for the republican county chairman.

S. H. Hagins was elected temporary chairman. W. H. Hagins and L. T. Hovernal were elected temporary secretaries. On motion and by vote the temporary organization was made permanent. On motion and by vote the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved 1. That we approve the call and the time and place of holding this convention.

Resolved 2. That we demand a complete reorganization of the Democratic party and to that end we insist that precinct committees be elected by the people—the source of sovereignty and from whom emanates all power in every Democratic government.

Resolved 3. That we favor the nomination of W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, for President.

Resolved 4. That we demand that the party laws be so amended that no man who is a candidate for office, or who holds any elective or appointive office, shall be eligible to hold a position on any committee of the party—State, county or district.

Resolved 5. That the delegates selected by this convention are instructed to vote for F. A. Lyon, of Beattyville, for member of the State Central Committee.

Resolved 6. That the following are selected as delegates to the State convention to be held at Lexington on the 11th of June, 1908, and they are instructed to vote as a unit on all questions that may come before said convention and to use all honorable means to carry into effect the resolutions adopted by this convention:

Another River to Cross.

The Republican committee met at Beattyville last Friday and all the candidates put up their entrance fee for the primary election which comes off June 20. Judge G. W. Gourley and Judge J. P. Adams, both of Beattyville, registered as candidates for Circuit Judge and Z. T. Hurst, A. H. Patton and Kelly Kash registered as candidates for Commonwealth's Attorney. All the candidates were confident of victory in the primary, but forgetting that "there is another river to cross."

Woman Kills Woman.

Mrs. Thomas Murrill shot and killed Mary Terry at Jett's Creek Sunday. It is reported that Tom Murrill had deserted his wife and taken up with the Terry woman. Mrs. Murrill began a search for them and finding them together fired three shots at the Terry woman, all of them taking effect and killing her instantly. Mrs. Murrill gave herself up to Squire I. C. Terry. Mrs. Terry was the wife of Wm. Terry and the Murrills lived near Le Rose.

The following, taken from the Charleston, W. Va., Gazette, of an event given by the Governor of West Virginia and his wife will be of interest to all Jackson people and many Kentuckians because of its mention of Mrs. Marie Patrick, wife of Capt. John Patrick:

"Mrs. W. M. O. Dawson entertained with a pretty garden party yesterday afternoon at the Executive Mansion. Mrs. Dawson was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Jane Flynn-McDonald. The punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. Jack Patrick, assisted by Misses Janet Laidley, Margaret Rodesil, Laura Williamson and Maude Brown. Chocolate was served by Mrs. E. W. Wilson and tea by Mrs. Sydney Arthur, of Covington, Ky. The tables were artistically decorated with American beauty roses."

JACKSON, KY., JUNE 3, 1908.
EDITOR NEWS:

To the citizens of Breathitt county: It seems that I was proven guilty of a bad case of murder. I can't say I was wrongfully done by getting a life sentence in the state prison, but I can truthfully say I don't feel guilty of such a deed, because I was in such condition at the time that I don't remember of killing Charles Robinson. I only remember that he made me mad and being drunk at the time and by him making me mad that I was not conscious of what I done. If the people had not told me I had killed the deceased I would never realized I had killed a man. I can truly say that God does not hold me responsible for murder. I go by my conscience. I can say that God is my helper and He will help me through. I began to put my trust in Him last November and He is my best friend now and I don't believe that God will let me remain in prison long; I have that faith in Him for He knows that I was not responsible at the time I done the crime.

I will ask the readers of this to let this be a warning for them to leave off your pistols and whiskey and you will not get into such trouble. I know I should have thought of this sooner, but I could not see till it was too late. The worst I hate about it is, I leave my dear little wife, no one to take care of her, but I trust God will take care of her.

Your friend,
ALLEN CREECH.

NOTABLE GATHERING Of Democrats at State Convention.

The Democratic State Convention for the selection of delegates to the National Convention to be held at Denver, began at the Auditorium at Lexington at half after two o'clock Thursday afternoon. There were gathered there over a thousand delegates and an equal number of alternates, selected by the Democrats of the various counties of Kentucky, to whom was delegated the duty of acting for those whom they represented.

Democrats poured into Lexington from all the 113 counties to attend the first state convention that has been held in the commonwealth since 1904. The delegates were a fine and representative body of men, happy to be together again to outline party policies and to endeavor to get together to capture the State for W. J. Bryan.

The reorganization element is in the saddle, as was shown in the race for temporary chairman, when Beckman saw the sentiment was against him and withdrew his name from the race.

One thing seemed to have been agreed upon that is, that the party rules shall be amended so that the precinct committeemen shall be selected in the cities as they are in the country, by the direct vote of the people instead of by appointment by the member of the State Central Committee.

There is also a strong sentiment in favor of incorporating in the party law a rule prohibiting a Federal, State, city or county official from serving on any party committee, and requiring the resignation of such officials from those offices.

Five Tenth District Democrats—F. A. Lyon of Lee; H. C. Cox, of Morgan; Abe Renick, of Clark; A. Y. Ratcliff, of Pike, and W. J. Howes, of Johnson—were in the race for a place on the State Central Committee.

It was decided at a conference of party leaders shortly after midnight Wednesday that instead of four there should be six delegates from the State-at-large to the Denver convention. James J. McCreary, J. C. W. Beckham, Ollie W. James, W. B. Bowman, Thomas H. Paynter and C. C. Mayo, giving each a two-thirds vote, instead of a full vote.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Nature probably has compensations for women, but somehow they have not yet evolved to her satisfaction.

There really is no use in getting mad, but a great many people make use of it.

Self conceit should not be kept upon dress parade if kept at all, but it certainly is the bane of Gilead for bruised feelings.

Some people must have borrowed a lot of trouble in their time the way they have it stacked up about them.

Nothing matters very much, but there is always so much to matter.

An apple was never known to turn into a plum, but a peach often helps to make a pair.

It is easy to get something for nothing. The consummate flatterer knows how it is to be done and is the only party to the transaction who knows that it is being done.
